Date Revised: 12/09/07

Each individual who conducts a foreign evangelistic seminar may be eligible for an Alaska Conference subsidy to offset travel expenses according to the following conditions:

- a. It is hosted by the Adventist Church in the country where it is held,
- b. It is sponsored by an official church supporting organization,
- c. It is a full-message series of at least 15 presentations,
- d. The at-home seminar may receive funding from the Alaska Conference evangelism fund of up to 75% of the total budgeted expense. An official evangelism budget request must be filed with the conference administration to be considered. Refer to Evangelism—Appropriations for specific allocation information.
- e. Participating individuals may collaborate on a joint meeting where the speaking responsibilities are shared.
- f. The at-home meeting must be held in an appropriate venue.

The seminar speaker may receive a $500 travel subsidy and those supporting may receive a $250 subsidy.
